My name is Lisa DePriest and I am the Humane Educator with the Humane Society of Greater Miami. My therapy dog Sparky and I visit schools and teach students about responsible pet ownership, how to be safe around animals, the importance of volunteering and being kind. I'm writing you today because most educators are not aware that the Humane Society provides this service free of charge to classes and organizations with students of all ages. We also participate at Career Days. If you know a teacher, club sponsor, or other educator that might like a visit, please pass this e-mail along to them. For further information or to arrange a visit, please call my direct line 305-749-1820 or send me an email at lisa@humanesocietymiami.org

Thank you! Sparky and I look forward to meeting you and your students!
